

12th Peripatetic Conference (October 26-30, 2023)
Thursday, 26 October 2023
18:00 - 19:30	Dinner, orientation
Session 1
20:30 - 20:50	Luke Ring	Press X to Doubt: Human-AI Videogame Interactions as a Useful Proxy for HRI Research?
20:50 - 21:10	Martina Olszewska	Is the Dead Poets Society a real tearjerker? The doubts in using available film stimuli for emotion induction.
Social gathering
Friday, 27 October 2023
8:30 - 9:00	Breakfast
Session 2
9:00 - 9:20	Ewa Nagórska	Critical Neuroscience: A reprise
9:20 - 9:40	Julian Zubek	Where to put an individual person in psychological research?
9:40 - 10:00	Michał Denkwicz	Questioning the Quagmire: The Reproducibility Crisis, Retractions, AI, and the Future of Science
10:00 - 10:20	Peter Thestrup Waade	Staying Human While Researching Human Minds
10:20 - 10:50	Break
Session 3
10:50 - 11:10	Agata Kochańska	Right in the middle of things. A few remarks on subjectivity and objectivity of construal
11:10 - 11:30	Angelo Delliponti	Alignment and conflict in language evolution
11:30 - 11:50	Bartłomiej Kiljanek	Could Mrs. DOUBTfire learn a foreign language in her rowdy sixties (and how that would improve her cognitive reserve)?
12:30 - 17:00	Mountain walk
17:00 - 18:30	Dinner
Session 4
18:30 - 18:50	Arkadiusz Bialek	Teasing. Creating and resolving uncertainty and doubt as a way to deepen interpersonal relationships
18:50 - 19:10	Klara Łuczniak	Togetherness – grasping an ill-defined term through experiencing and experimentation (open forum)
19:10 - 19:30	Astrid Iversen	Exploration in co-creation - how does levels of internal predictability affect co-creation of meaning in dance?
19:30 - 20:00	Break
20:00 - 21:30	Reading group
	Jesper Hoffmeyer (2008). How Can it be the Case that the World Contains Human Beings?
	Hans Jonas (1966). To Move and to Feel: On the Animal Soul from The Phenomenon of Life: Toward a Philosophical Biology
Social gathering
Saturday, 28 October 2023
8:30 - 9:00	Breakfast
9:00 - 10:00	Reading group (continued)
Break
Session 5
10:30-10:50	Ilona Iłowiecka-Tańska	What don't we know then when we know something?
10:50 - 11:10	Marcin Miłkowski	How Theories Impact Replication
11:10 - 11:30	Joanna Rączaszek-Leonardi	Scope and aims of the Cognitive Science from the perspective of Engaged Epistemology
11:30 - 11:50	J. P. Grodniewicz & Mateusz Hohol	Waiting for a digital therapist: three challenges on the path to psychotherapy delivered by artificial intelligence
12:30 - 17:00	Mountain walk
17:00 - 18:30	Dinner
Session 6
18:30 - 18:50	Bibianna Bałaj	Mind reading from different perspectives
18:50 - 19:10	Ewa Ratajczak	Searching for Neural Correlates of Heart Rate Variability Biofeedback with EEG Microstate Analysis
19:10 - 19:30	Paweł Motyka	Mapping the space of altered states of consciousness
19:30 - 19:50	Piotr Litwin	Don't think twice, it's alright: Explicit metacognitive monitoring diminishes performance in basic cognitive tasks due to a smaller number of corrective changes of minds
19:50 - 20:20	Break
Session 7
20:20 - 20:40	Michał Pięta-Lendzion	The role of movement coordination during group psychotherapy
20:40 - 21:00	Wiktor Rorot	Engineering Doubt: What role plays uncertainty in science
21:00 - 21:20	Konrad Zieliński	Ethics of care in academic life
21:20 - 21:40	Michał Weiss	What is the shape of doubt in the mind of a cognitive scientist?
Social gathering
Sunday, 29 October 2023
8:30 - 9:00	breakfast
Session 8 : Dancing out
9:00 - 9:20	Adrianna Biernacka-Gemel	A pattern that connects dementia, capitalism and cleaning
	Jakub Strebeyko	The Outside, Inside: On the Social Dimension of Reality Collapse
9:40 - 10:00	Anna Alińska	From being idealistic to a researcher hedonist
10:00 - 10:20	Krystyna Bielecka	Beyond Covariance: Rethinking Representation Hunger in Cognition
12:00 - ...	going home	